

ELEVEN LOSE LIVES IN ASHLAND FIRE

SEE STORY IN COLUMN 3

TODAY'S NEWS TODAY

Charleston Daily Mail

FINAL

EDITION

THE WEATHER

CITY — Rain ending tonight. Fair Sunday; high 46.

STATE — Clearing, cool tonight. Sunday fair and cold.

Weather Map, Almanac on Page 3

VOLUME 132—NO. 39

CHARLESTON, WEST VIRGINIA, SATURDAY EVENING, FEBRUARY 14, 1959

FIVE CENTS

RIVER CLAIMS 6 NEAR SISSONVILLE — Six hours after it plunged into the swollen waters of Middle Fork of Poca river three miles north of Sissonville, workmen pulled out this

Ohio car with six victims. Norman Myers, a United Fuel Gas Co. employee, pointing in left-hand picture, directed dragging operations. In the picture at right state police and curious spectators gather round the 1954 Dodge as ambulance drivers extricate the bodies of the two women and four children. Bob Morris, owner of a Charleston wrecker service, recalled that he had helped recover the body of another woman and her car from the same spot two years ago. — Daily Mail Photos by Earl Benton.

TWO TACKLE COPENHAVER 5 To Seek Mayor Job

A field of five will fight it out in Charleston's primary election March 16 for the top spots on Republican and Democratic tickets. Republican Mayor Copenhaver drew unexpected opposition last night when Wilbur L. Carte, head of an insurance agency, and F. O'Dair Duff, a school principal, filed for mayor.

Wabash Levee Hole Repaired

WEST TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (AP) — A temporary dike holding swirling Wabash River floodwaters from this western Indiana city broke early this morning, but sandbagging crews patched the break and kept most of the water from the city.

The dike was on Sugar Creek, a swollen tributary of the Wabash. Officials, at first thinking it was useless to try to patch the dike, released sandbagging crews to scan the area and see if all families had been evacuated.

The crews later were recalled, and the break was repaired in about 30 minutes.

Authorities still feared that the dike might give way today, as a huge upstream ice jam and predictions of more rain posed a double threat.

ELEVEN DEAD, ONE MISSING IN KY. BLAZE

8 Others Injured As Flames Sweep Ashland Building

ASHLAND, Ky. (AP) — Fire cut through an old apartment building "like an acetylene torch" early today, leaving 11 dead and one missing. Eight other persons were injured.

Among the victims were six members of the same family, including an expectant mother. She jumped from a window of the second floor, then died after giving birth to a still born son.

The fire, called the worst in Ashland's history, broke out at 1:01 a.m. and quickly cut off the only exit, a stairway at the front of the reconverted theater.

"Almost right away people began jumping out of the windows," said taxi driver Anthony Blackwell, who discovered the blaze.

SEVEN VANISH

Blackwell said he saw seven occupants standing at windows in the rear of the building on Green-up Ave. but "they disappeared when a section of the ceiling apparently fell."

"That fire cut just like an acetylene torch," he said.

Delmar Fannin, one of the 20 occupants of the stone-front structure, said he was awakened

Carte, 32, entered the race with promises to "do my utmost to solve Charleston's traffic problems . . . and I guarantee the policemen and firemen an adequate living wage."

Duff is a former Charleston councilman, an unsuccessful candidate for House of Representatives against John M. Slack last fall, and principal of Bonham School.

Tabet said it had been his lifelong ambition to be mayor of Charleston.

3-WAY JUDICIAL RACE

But the hottest contest on the Republican side is expected to be waged for municipal judge.

A three-way race developed there late yesterday when W. M. (Billy) Thomas, a Charleston attorney known for his impersonation of Stonewall Jackson at Stonewall Jackson High School football games, filed against incumbent Judge James A. McWhorter and former judge Joe Thomas.

Donald C. Shonk, city treasurer, said he was awakened

See 5 IN RACE, Pg. 2, Col. 6

6 Ohioans Die As Car Goes Into Poca River

LATE BULLETINS

Two Perish In Montreal Fire

MONTREAL, Que. (AP) — Two persons were burned to death and at least nine injured in a fire which swept a 56-unit apartment building early today. About 125 other persons fled into the 30-degree-above temperature. Firemen rescued 8 or 10 persons by ladders.

FBI Arrests 3 In Tax Trial Bribery

NEWARK, N. J. (AP) — The FBI says a juror was bribed in the 1956 tax evasion trial of Abner (Longie) Zwillman, a prohibition figure described by the bureau as "the reputed boss of the New Jersey underworld," and that three men have been arrested.

Dulles Has Cancer; Remains On Leave

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles has cancer and will continue on leave from his post while undergoing radiation therapy.

President Eisenhower, after visiting Dulles at Walter Reed Hospital, said he had "expressed the thoughts and prayers of all of us that the results of his operation and the further course of treatment will be successful."

"In order to allow time for this purpose the secretary continues on leave of absence."

The announcement came shortly after Eisenhower had spent 37 minutes at Dulles' bedside.

HERNIA INFECTED

A medical report issued afterward said that when Dulles was operated on for hernia Friday morning a small "nubular implant" was removed from the hernia sac and proved upon examination to be an "adenocarcinoma," a small cancer. The medical announcement also said that the fluid removed at the time the hernia sac was repaired was found under the microscope to contain "free cancer cells."

"No further surgery is contemplated," the announcement said. "In the immediate future radiation therapy will be used."

The cancer described as adenocarcinoma was the same kind of cancer Dulles was operated on for when a cancerous portion of his estate was valued at $2,456,946.

Graham said that after a deduction of more than a million dollars in federal and state taxes and $135,000 in fees, the two chief beneficiaries each will come into a trust fund of about $700,000.

The only inkling as to how Miss Ritter accumulated the fortune came from her nephew in Dayton.

She had good brokers, he said, and saved for a rainy day. Miss Ritter, years ago, worked for the Chillicothe Telephone Co. as a clerk.

Ex-S. Charleston Woman Is Victim

Six persons plunged into a watery grave early today on U. S. Rt. 21 three miles north of Sissonville when a landslide caused the driver to veer sharply, lose control of her car, and crash through a guardrail into the swollen waters of Middle Fork of Poca River. State Police said the victims were two women, three girls and a boy. They were identified as:

Mrs. Edith Hale Spangler, 52, of Youngstown, O., aunt of Dave Farley, Daily Mail reporter, who made the identification. Mrs. Spangler is a former resident of South Charleston and is survived by her parents there, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Hale of 913 Overlook Way.

Mrs. Madeline Russell, 32, of 361 Park Ave., Youngstown, and her four children by a previous marriage, Madeline Bowden, 13, Iris, 11, Kim, 9, and Juanita, 8. Kim is the boy.

Ardis Russell, husband of Mrs. Russell, told newsmen in Youngstown that his wife and stepchildren left there last night to accompany Mrs. Spangler here.

Russell said that he and Philip M. Spangler, Mrs. Spangler's husband, work together at Lorain O., for the American Bridge Co. They were neighbors.

Troopers F. E. Eddy and G. W. Dickson said an eyewitness to the tragic accident was Boyd Kouns of Stickney, Raleigh County, who said he had been following the car for several hours.

"There had been a slide of large rocks onto the highway," Eddy said. "The car was traveling south on U. S. 21 toward Charleston. Apparently, the driver saw the rocks, slammed on her brakes, cut sharply, and one of the wheels went off the road."

WATER 15 FEET DEEP

"She tried to cut back but apparently lost control of the car, smashed through a guardrail and plunged into 15 feet of water. The car was recovered approximately 100 feet downstream from where it went into the river."

Bob Morris, owner of a wrecker service which pulled the car out, said it was completely submerged.

See 6 OHIOANS, Pg. 2, Col. 4

Funeral Price Curbs Clamped On House Bill

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

House amendments have chipped up a bill concerning advertising by funeral directors which was presented to the 54th Legislature.

The bill before the House of Delegates was intended to take away power to regulate advertising now held by the Board of Embalmers and Funeral Directors. That group has placed tight limits on advertising, such as permitting newspaper ads to be only simple business cards no more than one inch high and forbidding advertising of prices.

An amendment by Del. Philip J. Graziani (D-Randolph) was adopted to take out of the bill a provision specifically authorizing price advertising and wrote in language prohibiting that practice.

The House adopted a Judiciary Committee amendment putting back into the bill power for the board to restrict advertising "by reasonable rule or regulation."

ADJOURN TILL MONDAY

The action on mortuary advertising was included in activity ending another week of the present legislative session. The House and Senate will resume their respective schedules Monday at 2 p.m.

The Senate convened at noon yesterday and was in session just

See FUNERALS, Pg. 2, Col. 2

Today's Index

16 PAGES—2 SECTIONS
FIRST—General News, Editorial, Sports, Comics
SECOND—Area News, Women's And Classified
Page	Page
Classified . . . 12	Obituaries . . . 5
Comics . . . 8	Sports . . . 6
Crossword . . 3	Of All Things 5
Editorials . . 4	Theaters . . . 10
Horoscope . . 11	TV-Radio . . 11
Legals . . . 12	Warming Up 6
Prayer . . . 2	Women's . . . 9
Movie Guide 10	Weather . . . 2
My Answer . 3	Winchell . . . 11

CHARLEY WEST SAYS:

Charleston has its share of brave people—those who drive in the 5 o'clock rush, and those who choose to run against Copenhaver.

ASHLAND FIRE CLAIMS 11 — Firemen direct streams of water on a stone-front Ashland, Ky., apartment building, built as a theater in 1891, in which 11 persons lost their lives today. A 14-year-old boy was missing in the blaze. — AP Wirephoto.

WATER-FILLED DEATH CAR PULLED FROM RIVER

Water gushes out the door of the car which carried two women and four children to their deaths early today. Legs and feet of some of the victims can be seen in the rear seat. Police said a landslide on Rt. 21 caused the driver to veer sharply to her left, smash through a guard rail and plunge into a tributary of Poca river. — Daily Mail Photo by Earl Benton.

METER THIEVES SCOFF AT JINX; ROB THIRTEEN

The thirteenth was not such a lucky number for Charleston. Thieves broke into and robbed 13 parking meters last night, the thirteenth of February. This was the worst night reported by police in February. Four meters were broken open on Brooks Street, the same number on Shrewsbury, three on Dickinson and two on Broad. No arrests were made.

Rock-Hurling Boy Wounded; Shooter Held

Rock throwing can be dangerous. Raymond Gibson, 14, of 1401-C Chandler Dr. learned that last night, according to Charleston police. The boy was taken to Charleston General Hospital with a shotgun wound after he and several companions were reported stoning the home of James Claude Hill, 59, of 1401 Chandler Dr. Police said the boys were pestering Hill by throwing rocks against the side of his house and he picked up his 12-gauge shotgun, opened the back door to his house and fired. Hill told police he "just fired in the air" to scare the rock throwers away, but one of the pellets found its way to young Gibson. It hit him in the back of the head and he was treated at Charleston General and sent back home. Hill isn't so fortunate. He is in the city jail today charged with malicious wounding. Officers said Gibson admitted he and two other boys had rocked the Hill house.

Woman's Hand Hurt In Meat Grinder

Mrs. Mildred Brewer of Chesapeake was admitted to St. Francis Hospital this morning for minor surgery after injuring her hand at the restaurant where she is employed. She injured one of her fingers when it became caught in a food grinder at Schrader's Restaurant.

THE WEATHER -- LOCAL & NATIONAL

DAILY ALMANAC
Sun and Moon
Sun rose 7:21 a. m.
Sun sets 6 p. m.
Moon set 11:55 p. m.
24-Hour Temperature Range Ended 8 a. m.
High 54
Low 51
Barometer Reading 9 a. m. 29.97, falling
Relative Humidity 9 a. m. 93 per cent
Kanawha Airport Temperatures 8 a. m. 56
9 a. m. 57
10 a. m. 57
WEST VIRGINIA: Cloudy and mild today with occasional rain or drizzle, highs in 50s east and 40s west. Cloudy and colder tonight, lows in 30s. Sunday fair and colder.

FUNERALS

Continued From Page One
under one hour. The House was in session for three hours.
Del. D. P. Given (D-Webster) used the power of his own composition to support the pre-amendment version of the bill on advertising by funeral directors. Examples of Given's work included the following which he read to the delegates:
"The caskets are set in a neat little row,
The prices are there, but seldom ever show...
"Hotel bills are free, and parties are gay,
If everything goes the lobbyists' way."
Both chambers moved proposed legislation on to the governor's office for his approval. Included were:
Two acts which would broaden the effect of a constitutional amendment adopted by the voters last November were passed by the Senate. The constitutional amendment removed the property tax from money and bank deposits.
Under the House-passed bills which the Senate unanimously approved, accounts in industrial loan companies, building and loan associations and federal savings and loan associations will be defined in law so as to make the tax exemption also apply to them.

ASHLAND

Continued From Page One
when the fire flapped the rug at my door like wind.
"I heard a woman scream but was unable to tell where it was coming from. Then I smelled smoke."
Famin's wife and sister jumped to safety and he and a brother-in-law were brought out by firemen.
YOUTH MISSING
Coroner Russell Compton said the missing person was 14-year-old Jack Kirk, believed to have spent the night with his father. The father was among the victims.
Compton listed the other dead as: Jack McKenzie, 20; his wife Polly, 28; her still-born child; and their son, Jackie, 4; Dickie Joe, 2; Johnny William, 1; James Powell, about 22; Mrs. Grace Blanton, 50; Frank Artist, about 50; and Clyde May, about 50.
Fire Chief Burriss Hensley, a veteran of 46 years with the department, said, "I've never seen a blaze as destructive as this one."
He said one of the occupants apparently made an attempt to put out the fire with an extinguisher "but it was moving too quickly. Those people just didn't have a chance."
Most of the residents lived on the second floor of the building, the old Columbia Theater, a restaurant and sign painting shop.
Hensley, unable to give a cause for the fire, said he found a fire escape assembled in the yard at the rear.
"It was to be installed next week."

Field Trials Old

COLUMBUS, Miss.—At Waverly Plantation, near Columbus, the United States' first field trials for foxhounds were held nearly 100 years ago.

Honolulu Beauty Chosen Frisco's 'Miss Chinatown'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A slender girl from Honolulu, mantled in red and gold silks, was crowned Miss Chinatown, USA, before an estimated 6,000 persons in Portsmouth Square last night.
Leona Lee, 20, reigns in the Chinese year of the boar—a period that Chinese elders predict will be prosperous for all. She was crowned by June Gong, last year's queen during the year of the dog.

Caracas Speech Slaps Communists

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Communists complained bitterly over President Romulo Betancourt's inaugural statement that he intends to keep them out of his government.
Betancourt said publicly that "The political philosophy of Communism is not in the best interests of democratic Venezuela." He said Reds would be excluded from his coalition government.
The Reds called his statements and act of "anti-Communist aggression."
Betancourt was a member of the Communist party in his youth but he later turned his back on it.

Caracas Speech Slaps Communists

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Communists complained bitterly over President Romulo Betancourt's inaugural statement that he intends to keep them out of his government.
Betancourt said publicly that "The political philosophy of Communism is not in the best interests of democratic Venezuela." He said Reds would be excluded from his coalition government.
The Reds called his statements and act of "anti-Communist aggression."
Betancourt was a member of the Communist party in his youth but he later turned his back on it.

Caracas Speech Slaps Communists

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Communists complained bitterly over President Romulo Betancourt's inaugural statement that he intends to keep them out of his government.
Betancourt said publicly that "The political philosophy of Communism is not in the best interests of democratic Venezuela." He said Reds would be excluded from his coalition government.
The Reds called his statements and act of "anti-Communist aggression."
Betancourt was a member of the Communist party in his youth but he later turned his back on it.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

God, our Creator-Father, all praise be to thee for the wonders of earth and sky and sea. Winds are thy messengers, silent snowflakes bear witness to thy superb craftsmanship, sun and rain and soil combine to provide food for our bodies and beauty for our souls to feed upon. Help us to match the wonder and beauty of nature by using her gifts aright; in Jesus' name. Amen.
—Alfred N. Sayres, Lancaster, Pa., professor of practical theology, Theological Seminary, Evangelical and Reformed church.

6 OHIOANS

Continued From Page One
merged and lying upside down in the stream. The doors and windows were closed, indicating the occupants had been unable to make an attempt to get out.
Koons told police he watched "the taillight go out of sight." He immediately called state police. The accident happened at approximately 2:40 a. m.
Police said the bodies were "scrambled inside like spaghetti."
Ambulances, wreckers and police were immediately dispatched to the scene. Unsuccessful attempts were made for two hours to hook onto the car while a heavy fog hampered rescue efforts. Workmen gave up their efforts and began again at daylight.
Norman Myers, an employee of United Fuel Gas Co. who directed dragging operations, hooked onto the car on his first try after locating it 100 feet downstream. Heavy rainfall yesterday and last night had caused the river to rise 10 feet.
Farley, hearing of the accident today, had a premonition that his aunt was involved. He said she was expected here late last night but never arrived.
Morris called the curve at which the accident happened one of the worst in West Virginia.
"it's routine for us to be called there to haul cars out of the ditch and river," he said. "Wreck after wreck has happened there. Two years ago a woman drowned in a similar accident. The water was up last night and the people didn't have a chance."
All of today's victims drowned. Kanawha County Coroner Goff Lilly reported after an examination.
Mrs. Spangler for several years had been a medical assistant to Dr. Leonard M. Eckmann of South Charleston. After her marriage to Philip Spangler, a construction worker, five years ago, she moved to Florida. They had been living in Youngstown for the past year.
Besides her parents, she is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Wilis Farley of South Charleston and Mrs. Paul Farley of St. Albans; and five brothers, Don, Winston, Salem, N. C., Christy, Billings, Mont.; Pat, Whitesville, Joe, Coal City, Raleigh County, and Curtis, Mayben, Wyoming county.
The bodies are at Cunningham Funeral Home.

6 OHIOANS

Continued From Page One
merged and lying upside down in the stream. The doors and windows were closed, indicating the occupants had been unable to make an attempt to get out.
Koons told police he watched "the taillight go out of sight." He immediately called state police. The accident happened at approximately 2:40 a. m.
Police said the bodies were "scrambled inside like spaghetti."
Ambulances, wreckers and police were immediately dispatched to the scene. Unsuccessful attempts were made for two hours to hook onto the car while a heavy fog hampered rescue efforts. Workmen gave up their efforts and began again at daylight.
Norman Myers, an employee of United Fuel Gas Co. who directed dragging operations, hooked onto the car on his first try after locating it 100 feet downstream. Heavy rainfall yesterday and last night had caused the river to rise 10 feet.
Farley, hearing of the accident today, had a premonition that his aunt was involved. He said she was expected here late last night but never arrived.
Morris called the curve at which the accident happened one of the worst in West Virginia.
"it's routine for us to be called there to haul cars out of the ditch and river," he said. "Wreck after wreck has happened there. Two years ago a woman drowned in a similar accident. The water was up last night and the people didn't have a chance."
All of today's victims drowned. Kanawha County Coroner Goff Lilly reported after an examination.
Mrs. Spangler for several years had been a medical assistant to Dr. Leonard M. Eckmann of South Charleston. After her marriage to Philip Spangler, a construction worker, five years ago, she moved to Florida. They had been living in Youngstown for the past year.
Besides her parents, she is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Wilis Farley of South Charleston and Mrs. Paul Farley of St. Albans; and five brothers, Don, Winston, Salem, N. C., Christy, Billings, Mont.; Pat, Whitesville, Joe, Coal City, Raleigh County, and Curtis, Mayben, Wyoming county.
The bodies are at Cunningham Funeral Home.

6 OHIOANS

Continued From Page One
merged and lying upside down in the stream. The doors and windows were closed, indicating the occupants had been unable to make an attempt to get out.
Koons told police he watched "the taillight go out of sight." He immediately called state police. The accident happened at approximately 2:40 a. m.
Police said the bodies were "scrambled inside like spaghetti."
Ambulances, wreckers and police were immediately dispatched to the scene. Unsuccessful attempts were made for two hours to hook onto the car while a heavy fog hampered rescue efforts. Workmen gave up their efforts and began again at daylight.
Norman Myers, an employee of United Fuel Gas Co. who directed dragging operations, hooked onto the car on his first try after locating it 100 feet downstream. Heavy rainfall yesterday and last night had caused the river to rise 10 feet.
Farley, hearing of the accident today, had a premonition that his aunt was involved. He said she was expected here late last night but never arrived.
Morris called the curve at which the accident happened one of the worst in West Virginia.
"it's routine for us to be called there to haul cars out of the ditch and river," he said. "Wreck after wreck has happened there. Two years ago a woman drowned in a similar accident. The water was up last night and the people didn't have a chance."
All of today's victims drowned. Kanawha County Coroner Goff Lilly reported after an examination.
Mrs. Spangler for several years had been a medical assistant to Dr. Leonard M. Eckmann of South Charleston. After her marriage to Philip Spangler, a construction worker, five years ago, she moved to Florida. They had been living in Youngstown for the past year.
Besides her parents, she is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Wilis Farley of South Charleston and Mrs. Paul Farley of St. Albans; and five brothers, Don, Winston, Salem, N. C., Christy, Billings, Mont.; Pat, Whitesville, Joe, Coal City, Raleigh County, and Curtis, Mayben, Wyoming county.
The bodies are at Cunningham Funeral Home.

6 OHIOANS

Continued From Page One
merged and lying upside down in the stream. The doors and windows were closed, indicating the occupants had been unable to make an attempt to get out.
Koons told police he watched "the taillight go out of sight." He immediately called state police. The accident happened at approximately 2:40 a. m.
Police said the bodies were "scrambled inside like spaghetti."
Ambulances, wreckers and police were immediately dispatched to the scene. Unsuccessful attempts were made for two hours to hook onto the car while a heavy fog hampered rescue efforts. Workmen gave up their efforts and began again at daylight.
Norman Myers, an employee of United Fuel Gas Co. who directed dragging operations, hooked onto the car on his first try after locating it 100 feet downstream. Heavy rainfall yesterday and last night had caused the river to rise 10 feet.
Farley, hearing of the accident today, had a premonition that his aunt was involved. He said she was expected here late last night but never arrived.
Morris called the curve at which the accident happened one of the worst in West Virginia.
"it's routine for us to be called there to haul cars out of the ditch and river," he said. "Wreck after wreck has happened there. Two years ago a woman drowned in a similar accident. The water was up last night and the people didn't have a chance."
All of today's victims drowned. Kanawha County Coroner Goff Lilly reported after an examination.
Mrs. Spangler for several years had been a medical assistant to Dr. Leonard M. Eckmann of South Charleston. After her marriage to Philip Spangler, a construction worker, five years ago, she moved to Florida. They had been living in Youngstown for the past year.
Besides her parents, she is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Wilis Farley of South Charleston and Mrs. Paul Farley of St. Albans; and five brothers, Don, Winston, Salem, N. C., Christy, Billings, Mont.; Pat, Whitesville, Joe, Coal City, Raleigh County, and Curtis, Mayben, Wyoming county.
The bodies are at Cunningham Funeral Home.

6 OHIOANS

Continued From Page One
merged and lying upside down in the stream. The doors and windows were closed, indicating the occupants had been unable to make an attempt to get out.
Koons told police he watched "the taillight go out of sight." He immediately called state police. The accident happened at approximately 2:40 a. m.
Police said the bodies were "scrambled inside like spaghetti."
Ambulances, wreckers and police were immediately dispatched to the scene. Unsuccessful attempts were made for two hours to hook onto the car while a heavy fog hampered rescue efforts. Workmen gave up their efforts and began again at daylight.
Norman Myers, an employee of United Fuel Gas Co. who directed dragging operations, hooked onto the car on his first try after locating it 100 feet downstream. Heavy rainfall yesterday and last night had caused the river to rise 10 feet.
Farley, hearing of the accident today, had a premonition that his aunt was involved. He said she was expected here late last night but never arrived.
Morris called the curve at which the accident happened one of the worst in West Virginia.
"it's routine for us to be called there to haul cars out of the ditch and river," he said. "Wreck after wreck has happened there. Two years ago a woman drowned in a similar accident. The water was up last night and the people didn't have a chance."
All of today's victims drowned. Kanawha County Coroner Goff Lilly reported after an examination.
Mrs. Spangler for several years had been a medical assistant to Dr. Leonard M. Eckmann of South Charleston. After her marriage to Philip Spangler, a construction worker, five years ago, she moved to Florida. They had been living in Youngstown for the past year.
Besides her parents, she is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Wilis Farley of South Charleston and Mrs. Paul Farley of St. Albans; and five brothers, Don, Winston, Salem, N. C., Christy, Billings, Mont.; Pat, Whitesville, Joe, Coal City, Raleigh County, and Curtis, Mayben, Wyoming county.
The bodies are at Cunningham Funeral Home.

6 OHIOANS

Continued From Page One
merged and lying upside down in the stream. The doors and windows were closed, indicating the occupants had been unable to make an attempt to get out.
Koons told police he watched "the taillight go out of sight." He immediately called state police. The accident happened at approximately 2:40 a. m.
Police said the bodies were "scrambled inside like spaghetti."
Ambulances, wreckers and police were immediately dispatched to the scene. Unsuccessful attempts were made for two hours to hook onto the car while a heavy fog hampered rescue efforts. Workmen gave up their efforts and began again at daylight.
Norman Myers, an employee of United Fuel Gas Co. who directed dragging operations, hooked onto the car on his first try after locating it 100 feet downstream. Heavy rainfall yesterday and last night had caused the river to rise 10 feet.
Farley, hearing of the accident today, had a premonition that his aunt was involved. He said she was expected here late last night but never arrived.
Morris called the curve at which the accident happened one of the worst in West Virginia.
"it's routine for us to be called there to haul cars out of the ditch and river," he said. "Wreck after wreck has happened there. Two years ago a woman drowned in a similar accident. The water was up last night and the people didn't have a chance."
All of today's victims drowned. Kanawha County Coroner Goff Lilly reported after an examination.
Mrs. Spangler for several years had been a medical assistant to Dr. Leonard M. Eckmann of South Charleston. After her marriage to Philip Spangler, a construction worker, five years ago, she moved to Florida. They had been living in Youngstown for the past year.
Besides her parents, she is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Wilis Farley of South Charleston and Mrs. Paul Farley of St. Albans; and five brothers, Don, Winston, Salem, N. C., Christy, Billings, Mont.; Pat, Whitesville, Joe, Coal City, Raleigh County, and Curtis, Mayben, Wyoming county.
The bodies are at Cunningham Funeral Home.

Fuel Imports Blow To State, Expert Asserts

Walter R. Thurmond, retired secretary for the Southern Coal Producers Assn., told members of the Charleston Civitan Club yesterday that the coal industry in West Virginia has now reached its most critical period.
Thurmond said the plight of the coal industry does not stem from the depression "which I think we are coming out of, but because of other factors."
Reciprocal trade agreements with other countries and the increasing use of diesel engines by railroads were cited by Thurmond. "If other quoted figures declines in coal production in Kanawha County and six other southern mining areas."
Thurmond, who has been active in the coal industry for 62 years, said that "fifteen years ago the railroads constituted a quarter of the country's annual coal consumption." He then quoted figures showing the decreasing use of coal by railroads.
Thurmond said that the reciprocal agreements with other countries put the United States in a bad position. "We can't compete with the cheap labor of other countries," he said.
"About 12,000 miners in the state would be working now," he said, "if it weren't for reciprocal trade on fuels."
On the brighter side of the picture Thurmond cited the steady growth of the metallurgical market for coal and the increase of electrical power for heating.

Haitian President Fearing Invasion

PORT-AU-PRINCE, Haiti (AP)—President Francois Duvalier charged last night that Haitian exiles are getting military training in Cuba "probably" in preparation for an armed invasion of Haiti.
He called on the United States to stop any such invasion. Duvalier said he got his information from his "personal police"—presumably Haitian intelligence agents.

DIAGNOSIS

Continued From Page One
lower intestine was removed on Nov. 3, 1956.
The President disclosed that during his visit he and Dulles had talked over the secretary's condition with the doctors.
"While I was with him his doctors discussed with us their finding of the existence of malignancy, not fully determined as to extent but certain to require further treatment," Eisenhower said.
The medical report said Dulles had "spent a very comfortable night and is in good spirits."
Concern had been expressed yesterday that Dulles might have cancer when the full medical report on his condition was delayed for 24 hours.
There was an interval of more than 24 hours in 1956 before it was announced a cancerous condition had been found. That condition was said to have been cleared up by the operation then.
LONGER TESTS SLATED
However, more definitive tests take much longer. One type involves storing of tissue specimens overnight. There was no indication of the kind of tests made in Dulles' case.
There was no official explanation for the delay on the full medical report. Normally, at least a preliminary pathologist's report is made to the surgeons before an operation is completed.
The President's personal physician, Gen. Howard M. Snyder, witnessed the operation and later reported to the President. But the White House would not comment on the nature of the report.
Dulles became conscious about dusk Friday night. He was reported in good spirits and asked for a newspaper.
Dulles entered Walter Reed Hospital Tuesday after he returned from conferences with Allied leaders in London, Paris and Bonn. He was described as having suffered considerable pain during that trip.
Development of an inguinal (groin) hernia had been reported previously. When he came back from Europe, doctors advised him to have an immediate operation.
If Dulles proves to be seriously ill, the possibility of his remaining as secretary would appear to be slight. However, a negative finding on the cancer examination or evidence of a curable affliction would probably mean that he would continue in office, resuming his duties after a period of recuperation and rest.

DIAGNOSIS

Continued From Page One
lower intestine was removed on Nov. 3, 1956.
The President disclosed that during his visit he and Dulles had talked over the secretary's condition with the doctors.
"While I was with him his doctors discussed with us their finding of the existence of malignancy, not fully determined as to extent but certain to require further treatment," Eisenhower said.
The medical report said Dulles had "spent a very comfortable night and is in good spirits."
Concern had been expressed yesterday that Dulles might have cancer when the full medical report on his condition was delayed for 24 hours.
There was an interval of more than 24 hours in 1956 before it was announced a cancerous condition had been found. That condition was said to have been cleared up by the operation then.
LONGER TESTS SLATED
However, more definitive tests take much longer. One type involves storing of tissue specimens overnight. There was no indication of the kind of tests made in Dulles' case.
There was no official explanation for the delay on the full medical report. Normally, at least a preliminary pathologist's report is made to the surgeons before an operation is completed.
The President's personal physician, Gen. Howard M. Snyder, witnessed the operation and later reported to the President. But the White House would not comment on the nature of the report.
Dulles became conscious about dusk Friday night. He was reported in good spirits and asked for a newspaper.
Dulles entered Walter Reed Hospital Tuesday after he returned from conferences with Allied leaders in London, Paris and Bonn. He was described as having suffered considerable pain during that trip.
Development of an inguinal (groin) hernia had been reported previously. When he came back from Europe, doctors advised him to have an immediate operation.
If Dulles proves to be seriously ill, the possibility of his remaining as secretary would appear to be slight. However, a negative finding on the cancer examination or evidence of a curable affliction would probably mean that he would continue in office, resuming his duties after a period of recuperation and rest.

DIAGNOSIS

Continued From Page One
lower intestine was removed on Nov. 3, 1956.
The President disclosed that during his visit he and Dulles had talked over the secretary's condition with the doctors.
"While I was with him his doctors discussed with us their finding of the existence of malignancy, not fully determined as to extent but certain to require further treatment," Eisenhower said.
The medical report said Dulles had "spent a very comfortable night and is in good spirits."
Concern had been expressed yesterday that Dulles might have cancer when the full medical report on his condition was delayed for 24 hours.
There was an interval of more than 24 hours in 1956 before it was announced a cancerous condition had been found. That condition was said to have been cleared up by the operation then.
LONGER TESTS SLATED
However, more definitive tests take much longer. One type involves storing of tissue specimens overnight. There was no indication of the kind of tests made in Dulles' case.
There was no official explanation for the delay on the full medical report. Normally, at least a preliminary pathologist's report is made to the surgeons before an operation is completed.
The President's personal physician, Gen. Howard M. Snyder, witnessed the operation and later reported to the President. But the White House would not comment on the nature of the report.
Dulles became conscious about dusk Friday night. He was reported in good spirits and asked for a newspaper.
Dulles entered Walter Reed Hospital Tuesday after he returned from conferences with Allied leaders in London, Paris and Bonn. He was described as having suffered considerable pain during that trip.
Development of an inguinal (groin) hernia had been reported previously. When he came back from Europe, doctors advised him to have an immediate operation.
If Dulles proves to be seriously ill, the possibility of his remaining as secretary would appear to be slight. However, a negative finding on the cancer examination or evidence of a curable affliction would probably mean that he would continue in office, resuming his duties after a period of recuperation and rest.

DIAGNOSIS

Continued From Page One
lower intestine was removed on Nov. 3, 1956.
The President disclosed that during his visit he and Dulles had talked over the secretary's condition with the doctors.
"While I was with him his doctors discussed with us their finding of the existence of malignancy, not fully determined as to extent but certain to require further treatment," Eisenhower said.
The medical report said Dulles had "spent a very comfortable night and is in good spirits."
Concern had been expressed yesterday that Dulles might have cancer when the full medical report on his condition was delayed for 24 hours.
There was an interval of more than 24 hours in 1956 before it was announced a cancerous condition had been found. That condition was said to have been cleared up by the operation then.
LONGER TESTS SLATED
However, more definitive tests take much longer. One type involves storing of tissue specimens overnight. There was no indication of the kind of tests made in Dulles' case.
There was no official explanation for the delay on the full medical report. Normally, at least a preliminary pathologist's report is made to the surgeons before an operation is completed.
The President's personal physician, Gen. Howard M. Snyder, witnessed the operation and later reported to the President. But the White House would not comment on the nature of the report.
Dulles became conscious about dusk Friday night. He was reported in good spirits and asked for a newspaper.
Dulles entered Walter Reed Hospital Tuesday after he returned from conferences with Allied leaders in London, Paris and Bonn. He was described as having suffered considerable pain during that trip.
Development of an inguinal (groin) hernia had been reported previously. When he came back from Europe, doctors advised him to have an immediate operation.
If Dulles proves to be seriously ill, the possibility of his remaining as secretary would appear to be slight. However, a negative finding on the cancer examination or evidence of a curable affliction would probably mean that he would continue in office, resuming his duties after a period of recuperation and rest.

DIAGNOSIS

Continued From Page One
lower intestine was removed on Nov. 3, 1956.
The President disclosed that during his visit he and Dulles had talked over the secretary's condition with the doctors.
"While I was with him his doctors discussed with us their finding of the existence of malignancy, not fully determined as to extent but certain to require further treatment," Eisenhower said.
The medical report said Dulles had "spent a very comfortable night and is in good spirits."
Concern had been expressed yesterday that Dulles might have cancer when the full medical report on his condition was delayed for 24 hours.
There was an interval of more than 24 hours in 1956 before it was announced a cancerous condition had been found. That condition was said to have been cleared up by the operation then.
LONGER TESTS SLATED
However, more definitive tests take much longer. One type involves storing of tissue specimens overnight. There was no indication of the kind of tests made in Dulles' case.
There was no official explanation for the delay on the full medical report. Normally, at least a preliminary pathologist's report is made to the surgeons before an operation is completed.
The President's personal physician, Gen. Howard M. Snyder, witnessed the operation and later reported to the President. But the White House would not comment on the nature of the report.
Dulles became conscious about dusk Friday night. He was reported in good spirits and asked for a newspaper.
Dulles entered Walter Reed Hospital Tuesday after he returned from conferences with Allied leaders in London, Paris and Bonn. He was described as having suffered considerable pain during that trip.
Development of an inguinal (groin) hernia had been reported previously. When he came back from Europe, doctors advised him to have an immediate operation.
If Dulles proves to be seriously ill, the possibility of his remaining as secretary would appear to be slight. However, a negative finding on the cancer examination or evidence of a curable affliction would probably mean that he would continue in office, resuming his duties after a period of recuperation and rest.

DIAGNOSIS

Continued From Page One
lower intestine was removed on Nov. 3, 1956.
The President disclosed that during his visit he and Dulles had talked over the secretary's condition with the doctors.
"While I was with him his doctors discussed with us their finding of the existence of malignancy, not fully determined as to extent but certain to require further treatment," Eisenhower said.
The medical report said Dulles had "spent a very comfortable night and is in good spirits."
Concern had been expressed yesterday that Dulles might have cancer when the full medical report on his condition was delayed for 24 hours.
There was an interval of more than 24 hours in 1956 before it was announced a cancerous condition had been found. That condition was said to have been cleared up by the operation then.
LONGER TESTS SLATED
However, more definitive tests take much longer. One type involves storing of tissue specimens overnight. There was no indication of the kind of tests made in Dulles' case.
There was no official explanation for the delay on the full medical report. Normally, at least a preliminary pathologist's report is made to the surgeons before an operation is completed.
The President's personal physician, Gen. Howard M. Snyder, witnessed the operation and later reported to the President. But the White House would not comment on the nature of the report.
Dulles became conscious about dusk Friday night. He was reported in good spirits and asked for a newspaper.
Dulles entered Walter Reed Hospital Tuesday after he returned from conferences with Allied leaders in London, Paris and Bonn. He was described as having suffered considerable pain during that trip.
Development of an inguinal (groin) hernia had been reported previously. When he came back from Europe, doctors advised him to have an immediate operation.
If Dulles proves to be seriously ill, the possibility of his remaining as secretary would appear to be slight. However, a negative finding on the cancer examination or evidence of a curable affliction would probably mean that he would continue in office, resuming his duties after a period of recuperation and rest.

THE DAILY MAIL

Bulletin Board

RESIGNATION OF DULLES DEFINITELY WILL HAPPEN
by Robert S. Allen

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles definitely will resign. That's the "inside" information reported by Robert S. Allen whose column appears daily on the editorial page. Allen's disclosure comes in the midst of speculation about Dulles and the columnist backs up his story by quoting a source.
To find out the facts about Dulles and who will replace him, be sure to read Allen's column today.

'YEARS GONE BY' RECALLS BIG EVENTS OF THE PAST

by Wilma Higginbotham
Time has a way of slipping by and blurring the memory of local events.
In her column, "Charleston In Years Gone By," Daily Mail writer Wilma Higginbotham recounts the stories that made headlines in newspapers in past decades.
She tells of events of 10, 20 and 30 years ago, but they seem like only yesterday. Turn to page 16 to find out about "Charleston In Years Gone By."

5 IN MAYOR RACE

Continued From Page One
er, is unopposed for re-election on the Republican side.
John Lynn Goshorn, a member of the House of Delegates and Charleston attorney, filed for judge on the Democratic side, and George W. Reeves, Jr., a grocer, is seeking the nomination for city treasurer.
Unless a mailed entry arrives later, they will be unopposed. City Clerk Joe Hudson said mail filings will be accepted if they are postmarked before midnight Friday.
BLAKE IN STATEMENT
Meanwhile, State Adj. Gen. William E. Blake issued a statement in reference to the candidacy of Col. McLaughlin for mayor:
"Col. McLaughlin has requested leave to carry him through April 20, 1959 (city general election day). I have no reason to disapprove his request.
"Whatever he does while he is on leave is really none of my business. With his background, Kemp naturally has an inborn curiosity for politics. He has frequently been mentioned as a candidate or appointee for other offices.
"Let him get his feet wet. Without a doubt he is pretty ambitious in electing to take on the 'chump' as his first political opponent."
McLaughlin's reference to the "chump" is, obviously, Mayor Copenhaver.
Following is a complete list of the 70 Republicans and 80 Democrats who filed for office:

REPUBLICAN
Mayor — John T. Copenhaver, 914 Highland Rd.; Wilbur L. Carte, 842 Waits St.; F. O'Dair, 941 Walnut Ave.
Duff, of the Municipal Court — W. M. (Billy) Thomas, 1318 MacCorkle Ave.; Aaron Cohen, 128 Sheridan Circle; James A. McWhorter, 1234 Highland St.; Joseph Thomas, 1506 Sixth Ave.
Treasurer — Donald C. Shonk, 1524 Kanawha Blvd., East.
Councilmen-at-large (five to be nominated) — J. Parke McMaster, 4802 Virginia St.; John A. Shanklin, 1507 Quarrier St.; R. Emerson Carson, 463 Linden St.; Mrs. Dorothy Heinzer, 5007 Staunton Ave.; Claude Lacy, 2292 Savory Dr.; Larry Ashbury, 405 Park Ave.
Ward Councilmen (one from each ward) — Delmar R. Sumner, 1630 Clay Ave., 1st; Chester W. Bourne, 802 Beech Ave., 2nd; George T. Swain, 1133 Edgewood Dr.; Ray O. Ratliff, 521 Roane St.; Thomas I. Maddox, 962 Mathews Ave., A. C. Kinnaman, 711 Beech Ave., 3rd; Paul S. Edens, 29B Monongalia St., F. Clyde Parker, 404 Ohio Ave., 4th; O. L. Parsons, 869 Anacosta Ave., 5th; Frank A. Wilson, 1912 Crescent Rd., Joxalana H. Hamer, 512 Westmoreland Dr., 6th; Rev. Robert A. Banks, 629 McCormick St., 7th; John W. Chappell, 609 Donnelly St., H. L. Early, 609 Christopher St., 8th; D. Brooks Jr., 607 Court St., 8th ward.
Lewis T. Risk, 115 Quarrier St., 9th; J. W. Hubbard Jr., 19 Bradford St., 10th; Guy M. Bibbee, 101 Main Dr., 11th; Dr. A. L. Harris, 914 Morris St., William H. Jackson, 1207 Truslow Ave., Paul T. Wilcher, 414 Bradford St., Jack Ernest Parton, 901 Miller St., 12th ward.
Oliver D. Engle, 1519 Huron Terrace, 13th; Harry T. Spence, 1622 Virginia St., East, 14th; John M. Capito, 659 Holley Rd., 15th; James D. Ireland, 2909 Noyes Ave., 16th; J. M. Stubblefield, 5122 Kanawha Ave., 17th.
Kenneth B. Young, Charleston Rt. 1, Box 47, Benjamin H. Caldwell, 711 1/2 Perry Lane, 18th; H. D. Crane, 2018 Weberwood Rd., Henry Elden, 809 Churchhill Dr., Clifton S. Butcher, 1635A Elm St., Ernie B. James, 1602 Sunnyside Dr., 19th.
Committee member (one to be elected from each ward) — Henry L. Burdette, 1421 Sixth Ave., W. R. Combs, 1639 1/2 Seventh Ave., 1st; Lelecher Ewing, 921 Central Ave., C. D. Hedrick, 1007 Hunt

DEMOCRAT

Mayor — James K. McLaughlin, 3712 Staunton Ave., Samuel C. Tabet, 584 S. Rufner Rd.
Judge of the Municipal Court — John L. Goshorn, 2300 Cherokee Ave.
Treasurer — George W. Reeves Sr., 2016 Kanawha Blvd., East.
Councilmen-at-large (five to be nominated) — Mike Bsharah, 506 Maxwell St.; Sheffey B. Hart, 539 Elizabeth St.; Alvin McCorkle III, 3 Comstock Place, Karl Francis Hill, 3205 Fifth Ave.
Clarence J. Benson, 272 Oakwood Rd., Cullen G. Hall, 886 Sherwood Rd., Roy T. Frist, 1591 Piedmont Rd., Raymond D. Miller, 804 Maple Rd., John T. Moore, 315 Handolph St., A. Garnett Thompson, 61 Abney Circle, Charles E. Hurt, 630 Central Ave.
Ward councilmen (one from each ward) — Elmo Cannon, 1417 Fourth Ave., A. T. Boylen, 1645D Chandler Dr., 1st; Dana C. Keeser, 806 Bauer Ave., Thomas W. Robertson, 1103 First Ave., 2nd; Owen W. Wilson, 715 Bauer Ave., Joseph E. Ballengee, 810 Maple Dr., 3rd; R. Brooks Payne, 20 Delaware Ave., 4th; Richard White, 408 Ohio Ave., T. J. Timlin, 510 Washington St., West, Harold W. Wehrle, 610 Market Dr., 5th.
William M. Sloan, 633B Garrison Ave., 6th; Charles Frye, 509 Clendenin St., Dewey H. Ball, 1044 1/2 Washington St., East, 7th; Willie Hatch, 410 Donnelly St., Alfred W. Pettigrew, 500 Christopher St., Joseph Popp Jr., 401 Summers St., 8th; R. E. Gibbs, 510 1/2 Virginia St., East, 9th; Herman Gardner, 175 South Dr., Charles S. Knowles, 202 Sunset Dr., 11th; G. Howard Mitchell, 1209 Piedmont Rd., 12th; Rudolph L. DiTrapano, 1533 Huron Terrace, S. Basil Asaley, 1550 Jackson St., 13th; R. G. Slack, 2516 Kanawha Blvd., East, William E. Keener, 807 Townsend Dr., 14th;
Edward H. Tiley, 1450 Loudon Heights Rd., 15th; Richard S. Glaser, 3311 Noyes Ave., Kenneth May, 2704 Kanawha Ave., William R. Chevalier, 3710 Washington Ave., 16th; James J. Howell, 5521 Washington Ave., Charles W. Middelburg, 5107 Kanawha Ave., 17th; Theodore French, 2302 Sixth Ave., W. Howard Tate, 49 Woodward Dr., 18th; Kyle M. Cunningham, 945 Churchhill Dr., Ray W. Darnold Jr., 634 Wayside Dr., Richard B. Green, 1866 Sunnyside Dr., 19th.
Committee member (one to be elected from each ward) — Eugene E.